

Investment in Food Production

Business Investors

Food Consumption

Generation of Income

Food Production

Improved Farming

Soy Beans

Creation of Jobs

Date: Saturday, 20th October 2012

Venue: 1e van der Kunstraat 292, Den Haag

Time: 6:30pm - 9:00pm

Ideren is welkom

0618126917 / 0702000164 / info@afroeuro.org

Food production is a necessity in achieving Food Security in our world today. This programme is a workshop for Migrants and the Dutch community in the Netherlands. It discusses ways of investing in Food Production to protect, produce and gain profit from Maize and Soy bean farming.

The programme is highly open and interactive. It discusses ways of investing in Food Production to protect, produce and gain profit from Maize and Soy bean farming.

The workshop also elaborates how migrants can channel their remittances as investment packages towards agricultural projects in their country of origin, highlighting more on how migrants can save and preserve food during bumper harvest in Africa and how to save food in Europe (Food consumption and disposal).

Interested? Then join us....

Date: Saturday, 20th October 2012

Place: 1e van der kunstraat 292, Den Haag– Netherlands Time: 6.00 till 9.00pm

Agenda: Investing in Food to protect, produce and gain profit out of Maize and soy bean production.

All are cordially invited to attend.

Programme Outline

6.00pm

Opening by Chairman - Mr. Charles Oppong World Food Day (why invest in maize production)

6.30pm

AfroEuro Food Security Programme By Mr. Vincent Gambrah

7.00pm

Cooperate Investment—Mr. Tony Koffie 7.20pm

Remittances for investment— Mr. Anthony

8.00pm

Questions and Answers – Importance of Investment (Moderated by the Chairman)

9.00pm

Reception